REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claimed invention is directed towards a database system for searching legal documents. The claimed invention provides numerous functions including; citations to other relevant legal documents, notes associated with the subject matter of the legal document, and classifications of related legal subject matter. Further functions of the system include a graphical user interface for the manipulation of the above mentioned functions.

The Piacente prior art of record discloses a database which contains legal documents. Piacente includes citations to other relevant legal documents as well as a graphical user interface for allowing the user to manipulate the functions of the database (see pages 329-330).

Picaente however, does not disclose “a third data window for displaying in a first mode one or more headnotes associated with the first legal document and for displaying in a second mode one or more subject-matter classifications associated with the first legal document; and a third control interface adjacent the third data window, the third control interface including: fourth user-selectable means for switching the third data window between the first and second modes; fifth user-selectable means for selecting one or more headnotes; and sixth user-selectable means for selecting one or more legal subject-matter classifications; and seventh user-selectable means for re-invoking display of the second control screen, with the second display window responsive to the fifth or sixth user-selectable means to limit display of citations based on the selected headnotes or the selected subject-matter classifications”, as disclosed by the independent claim.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”

Conclusion

The prior art made of record, listed on form PTO-892, and not relied upon, if any, is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
